[Print on Employer's

S

mpany Name and Address]

<< Employee's Name>>

<<Address>>

<<Address>>

<<Post Code>>

<<Date>>

Dear << >>

Re: Post-Emp

As you are aware, even though you are still bound by the post-e <<state clause numbers>> of yo attached contract of employmer restrictions.

We believe that you are in brea because: <<Specify employee's a more of the restrictive covenants >

If you are in breach of your restric including injunctive proceedings, to continuing or further breaches. against you, a claim will also be made to account to the Company for pay damages for any losses of profit has been made by your necever this from you and/or your in

Within seven days of the date of you will not breach, or will immed employment obligations and restri not hear from you within seven da the necessary legal action against

You may wish to take legal advice with a copy of your contract of e believe have led to the breach of o

Yours sincerely,

<<Name and Title>>
For and on behalf of <<Company

le Company ended on <<date>>, ind restrictions set out in clauses ent dated <<specify date>> (see by you in connection with these ment obligations and restrictions have led to the breach of one or bany can take all necessary steps, ew employer from committing any s, if civil proceedings are issued urt costs. Any breach renders you nade as a result of the breach and b be aware that, if any additional t of your breach, we will seek to written undertaking from you that which is in breach of, your post-contract of employment. If we do atter to our solicitors who will take and to provide your new employer ify employee's actions which you live covenants >>.

